

Privacy Policy

NewPath Wellness

Effective date: September 29, 2026

NewPath Wellness ("NewPath," "we," "us," or "our") respects your privacy. This policy explains what information we collect through www.newpathwellness.fit (the "Site"), how we use and share it, and the choices available to you. It applies to the Site and our direct communications with you. A third-party seller, enrollment platform, or social media service has its own privacy practices.

Information we collect

- Information you provide: Your name, email address, phone number, and the details you include when you submit a contact or interest form, request information, sign up for updates, or correspond with us. If you volunteer information about your health or personal circumstances, we receive that information too. Please do not submit medical records, payment card details, Social Security numbers, or other highly sensitive information through a general contact form.
- Website information: Our hosting provider may receive your IP address, browser and device details, pages viewed, approximate location derived from your IP address, referring page, and access times in order to deliver and protect the Site.
- Cookies and similar tools: The Site may use cookies as needed for its operation. We do not intentionally collect information from children under 13. The Site is intended for adults. If you believe a child has submitted information, contact us so we can address it.

How we use information

We use information to respond to your requests; provide information you asked for about wellness resources, products, or a business opportunity; operate, maintain, secure, and improve the Site; send updates or marketing communications when appropriate; and comply with legal obligations. We do not treat a contact-form submission as consent to automated marketing texts. Any such program requires its own appropriate consent and opt-out process. You can unsubscribe from marketing email using the link in the message or by contacting us. We may still send a response to a question you asked or another nonmarketing communication relevant to your interaction with us.

How we share information

We may share information with companies that help us host the Site, manage forms and email, provide analytics or other services we actually use, subject to their applicable terms and safeguards. If you ask us to connect you with a product provider or business opportunity, we may share the information reasonably needed to fulfill that request, or direct you to the provider's separate website. We may also disclose information when required by law, to protect rights and safety, or in connection with a business transfer.

External sites and transactions

Links may take you to a separate product seller, enrollment platform, or social media service. Their privacy policies govern information you give them directly, including purchases, payment details, and enrollment records. Review those policies before providing information. NewPath does not receive complete payment card information merely because you follow a link from this Site.

Retention and security

We keep personal information for as long as reasonably needed for the purposes described above, including responding to inquiries, maintaining business records, and meeting legal requirements. We use reasonable safeguards appropriate to the information we handle, but no website or electronic transmission can be guaranteed completely secure.

Your choices and rights

You may ask us to access, correct, or delete information you provided directly to NewPath, subject to applicable law and necessary recordkeeping. You may also opt out of marketing email. Depending on your location and whether a privacy law applies to our business, you may have additional rights concerning your personal information. Contact us using the details below; we may need to verify your identity before fulfilling a request. For information held by a third-party seller or platform, contact that provider directly.

You can manage cookies through your browser and, where offered, our Site's cookie controls. Blocking some cookies may affect Site features.

Changes

We may update this policy as our practices or legal requirements change. We will post the revised policy here with a new effective date. If a change materially affects how we use information already collected, we will provide additional notice when required by law.
